

Louisiana Ag Week Sprouts Up March 18-22, 2024: Celebrate, Compete, and Grow!

Baton Rouge, LA – Get ready to sprout your creativity and curiosity during the inaugural Louisiana Ag Week, taking place March 18-22, 2024!

This week-long celebration isn't just about exploring the roots of agriculture – it's about celebrating its vibrant present and growing its future one seed at a time.

Dig Into The Heart Of Louisiana:

- Uncover the journey of your food: From planting seeds to processing and packing, discover the incredible story behind your everyday meals.
- Meet the faces behind the fields: Connect with farmers who dedicate their lives to nourishing our communities.
- Explore the future of farming: See how innovation and technology are revolutionizing agriculture, ensuring a sustainable and secure food supply for generations to come.

Let Your Creativity Bloom In Our Youth Contests:

- Young Sprouts Coloring Contest (Pre-K - 2nd Grade): Color your favorite Louisiana commodity coloring sheet and learn where your food, fuel and fiber come from.
- Growing Artists Contest (3rd - 8th Grade): Express your unique perspective on agriculture through drawing or painting.
- Future Farmers Video Contest (9th - 12th Grade): Share your vision for the future of agriculture through a creative and engaging video.

Grow Your Knowledge, Grow Your Community:

- Host an event: Organize farm tours, educational workshops, or cooking demonstrations in your community.
- Spread the word: Share information about Louisiana Ag Week and its contests with your friends, family, and neighbors.
- Educate the next generation: Download special lesson plans and activities for teachers and homeschoolers through the Ag in the Classroom program at www.aitcla.org. These engaging resources make learning about agriculture fun and enriching for students of all ages.

Visit our website at www.laagweek.com for contest details, event updates, and more ways to get involved. Let's celebrate the power of agriculture, from seed to screen, with creativity, connection, and a green thumb!

Together, let's cultivate a deeper understanding, appreciation, and vibrant future for Louisiana agriculture!
